A Remarkable Swindle by a New York Reporter.

A Court reporter, connected until a few days since with the morning press will be able in future to describe prison life at the Tombs from experience. It is more than likely, too, that he may extend his personal observations to Sing Sing or Auburn, and make them cover a period of some years of hard labor. The cheat practised by this reporter was unusual and without excusing circumstance. It involved not alone his associates and his wife, but an estimable young lady who unwittingly became the bride of an already married man. Some three weeks ago the reporter went to his chief with a most pitiful story of the sudden death of his wife, and his own utter lack of means to bear the funeral expenses. The body must be taken to Washington, where the parents lived, and laid in the cemetery beside the four children who had preceded their mother. The case was one to touch the sympathy to the quick, two of the children having died within a few months. The editor placed his week's salary, just drawn, in the reporter's hands. The associate reporters made generous loans, the proprietor was moved to advance a month's pay, and with expressions of lasting and deep gratitude the bereaved man went away. It was supposed, of course, that he went to Washington on his sad errand. In fact, he proceeded to a mansion up town and was married that very night. Part of the borrowed money went to pay the expenses of a modest tour, and establish the twain in their boarding home. After about the proper absence for the funeral at Washington, the reporter reappeared at the office and resumed his work. Nothing was suspected till another reporter chanced to meet a medical professor, who asked how Mr. — was.

"He's at work again. Just got back from Washington, where he went to bury his wife."
"Bury his wife? You must be mistaken."

"I lent him money to help pay the funeral expenses."
"Why, you must be joking. He was married at my sister's house, three weeks ago, and my sister went over to stay with his wife only a night or two since, when he was obliged to be absent. How do you account for that?"
The reporter did not explain, but told the city editor about it. Investigation brought the supposedly-buried wife out as fresh and well as ever, and also revealed the fact that her husband had been home but twice in a month. A policeman was procured, and when the bigamist came in to account for Court proceedings he found himself "booked" for the Tombs on a steady assignment. The saddest feature of the affair is the lot of the unlawful wife. The blackest is the charge that an attempt to poison the lawful wife was made by the reporter a few days before his second wedding, but failed because of an overdose. It would thus seem that the affectionate husband did intend to go to Washington, and for the purpose he stated. That he did not go was his misfortune, not his fault.—N. Y. Corr. Chicago Tribune.

BANKING IN THE DAYS OF THE BIBLE.—The London Tablet says: A large collection of Babylonian antiquities has been received at the British Museum. They consist chiefly of tablets, mortgage loans, promissory notes, records of the sale of lands, shares, and other commodities, representing, in fact, all the various commercial transactions of a Babylonian firm, which may be approximately described as Messrs. Gabi & Sons, bankers and financial agents. Many of the tablets represent the renewal of loans and mortgages, so that the documents referring to the first and last of continuing transactions bear the dates of several different reigns. These dates extend from the fall of the Assyrian Empire to the reign of Darius Hystaspis, and furnish very important chronological landmarks, and they are in many respects subversive of the recent chronology. The rate of interest current in Babylon on loans was 10 per cent., and much light is thrown on the social life of the Babylonians from the circumstance that witnesses of deeds are always described by their trade or profession.

GROUNDS FOR A DIVORCE.—Mrs. Spratt of Brooklyn, New York, wishes to be divorced from Mr. Spratt, and her allegations against him are alarming. It seems that only four years after the wedding he hit her in the left eye with a piece of pumpkin pie, perhaps not a very dangerous missile, but certainly a disagreeable one to be hit with, to say nothing of so wasting the pie. Later Spratt, who is in the tugboat business, but who seems to be anything except a jolly lar, flung a pitcher at her, hit her with a lighted kerosene lamp, threw glass bottles at her, drew a knife across her neck and threatened to cut her throat, stuck a fork in her leg, poured hot tea over her, and finally hit her in the back with a bootjack, when, her patience having been exhausted, she left him. Now it is Spratt's turn to tell his story.—N. Y. Sun.

Mrs. Hayes had not been in Washington more than half an hour before the society reporters and special correspondents of that highly sociable city went through her trunks, scrutinized everything in them, counted the handkerchiefs and stockings, measured the slippers, and turned up their noses because she had only thirteen silk dresses.

Concerning Suffrage.

A Radical organ, in its comments on the refusal of the Legislature of Connecticut to propose an amendment to the State Constitution to require an educational qualification for voting, says that the Legislature erred; that no man has a right to vote unless he is educated; that uneducated suffrage is detrimental to the State; that the qualification should embrace something more than the mere ability to read and write; that the voter should be able to understand the form of government under which he lives; and it then adds: "Ignorance has no vested rights in the franchise, and those who do not comprehend the governmental system ought not to be permitted to take part in regulating it."—Examiner.

The San Francisco Examiner goes on to discuss this proposition and hinder the righteous cause, by asserting that Republicans armed ignorance with the ballot for their own gain. This is untrue. The negro was freed and it was necessary to protect him in his own position. This required one of two things: either martial rule must prevail in the unreconstructed States, or the liberated slave must be armed with weapons of privilege which might be used effectually for his own protection. The ballot was placed in his hand, and we assert that he has not abused its spirit one-half as much as the ignorant foreigner, who comes to us merely for the satisfaction of bodily needs, and is oppressed in mind by the servitude from which he is fortunate enough to escape.

The masses of the American people are honest. They are each and every one an integral part of our Government. Should we not then have an honorable and satisfactory administration under the choice of such votes? We certainly should were it not for the imported ignorance which disarms the intelligent efforts by force of numbers and makes elections a test of skill at wire-working and not an honest, fair expression of the public will.

You who can read and reason, step to the polls with your opinion formed and your ticket carefully read and folded. You feel that you are performing a grave duty and are anxious to acquit yourself well. You are therefore a good citizen and worthy of the rights you exercise. But who is this who jostles you? You turn and see your next neighbor, who can neither read nor write, and whom you know is unable to canvass the merits of issues, or vote intelligently. Is it comforting to know that as your ballot falls into the box that this dummy will step forward and in criminal ignorance—perhaps for pay—cancel the good which you have done? The proposition is plain. Can you expect intelligent results from unreasoning ignorance.

Superintendents of corporations always have these men to work with, and when election day comes they are armed with tickets, instructed and driven to the polls. They vote and can not swear which ticket they deposited, leaving out the more manly part of knowing what the vote meant. Now, if Mr. Smith owns a drove of cattle why shall he not place tickets upon their horns and drive them to the polls? Where is the difference which does not favor the 'box? We want the champions of ignorant voters to make answer, and the nation wants its law making power to protect our honor from the criminal ignorance of men who give us a corrupting influence in return for our generous protection, and cancel the good influence of men who know the right and try to protect it. Reform must come. When shall it be?

It is remarkable how kindly the general run of Radicals take to the idea of having a Democrat and a rebel in the Cabinet.—Ex.

It is still more remarkable how much astonished the Democrats are to know that their ranks contained a man who was worthy of a position in the Cabinet.

Is the Treasury to be hawked about among speculators? Are stocks to be put up or down by a "Ring" of officials and Wall street gamblers? Is there a secret partnership between Gould and Sherman? We pause for a reply.—Ex.

You should have paused before asking such idiotic questions.

Mr. George Francis Train nominates Jefferson Davis for President in 1880. Mr. Train is too fast.

The S. F. Examiner will support the nominee.

Stocks.

And the stock market continues to be debilitated and considerably demoralized, notwithstanding all sanitary efforts to the contrary. Stock dealers appear to have lost confidence, and are laying off to repair damages. "Hope deferred maketh the heart sick," and their hopes, upon which they invested their money, having turned out somewhat disastrously, they are disposed to "wait for the turn of the tide" before risking any more of their almighty dollars rashly. In fact many are so despondent as to look for a still further and more disastrous decline.—G. H. News.

The development of mines on the Pacific Coast must depend to a considerable extent upon the assistance which the people give to those who spend their thousands in bringing the hidden treasure to the light of day and the use of man. When the people have the desire to render this aid they also have back of it the stronger inducement to furnish it because of the prospect of deriving large profits and benefits from their investments. Heavy mining men know this fact and have long taken advantage of it. Their number has increased, however, to a small army, and their avarice has never been confined in due bounds; hence we feel to-day the pernicious effects of what we as a people not only submitted to be practiced upon us, but have even invited and encouraged.

There must in the very nature of things be a reaction from expensive, indiscreet stock inflation investments. The people and many who are themselves rich suffer; the lesson is severe, but we see no way by which its effects may be obviated. A valuable and most important industry should not be crippled. Let not mining stock manipulators then destroy the public confidence or relentlessly grind thousands in the mill of poverty. There is a universal demand for a rise in the price of stocks, and such a rise would add new life to all kinds of business and give cheer and comfort to many a depressed fireside.

TELEGRAPHIC.

Louisiana is to be again visited by a Commission. Nichols and Packard will both be visited. South Carolina will probably receive a Commission benefit.

New York is excited over the sudden and mysterious disappearance of ex-Mayor Oakey Hall. Various conjectures prevail as to his whereabouts. Some think he has committed suicide; others that he has been murdered, and again, there are those who believe that he has gone to Europe, being frightened away from New York by the return of Peter B. Sweeney. He has been erratic and partly insane for some time.

The President and Cabinet are holding daily sessions to discuss and dispose of the questions coming up for settlement from South Carolina and Louisiana. Yesterday the serious question of the withdrawal of troops from these States was discussed at length. Sherman, Thompson and McCrary were opposed to the removal. The President stated that he was anxious to have this question disposed of at the earliest time practicable. Today the Cabinet hold another meeting, when the question will probably be settled.

Tom Briggs, a lunatic, has brought suit against General Grant for false imprisonment and $100,000 damages. Thomas will probably pay his respects to a lunatic asylum in a few days.

Demas, a negro Senator of Louisiana, who favored Nichols, has gone back to the Packard Senate. The latter body now has a quorum and the extra session is extended.

Wells, a negro murderer, was lynched yesterday in Augusta, Ga.

The Chicago Journal is authority for saying that the Cabinet has agreed to two points: First, to strictly maintain the status quo in South Carolina and Louisiana, so far as the general condition of the government is concerned, until a commission can investigate and report as to the proper course to pursue in those States, and second, to call an extra session of Congress for Monday, June 4th.

Schurz has appointed a committee of three to study the festive grasshopper and devise a plan to effectually bull-dose this devourer of green things.

The President is daily visited by some delegations. Yesterday Fred Douglas and a crowd of negroes paid their respects to His Excellency, and then followed a prominent Irishman and suite. The latter want a finger in the political pie.

The Rhode Island Democrats according to the Sun are not standing much on their former dignity, hence it is presumed that Van Zandt of Newport (Rep.) will drop quietly into the Governor's chair.

JONAH AND THE WHALE.—A scientific man, whose name we did not learn, has come to the rescue of the scriptural legend of Jonah swallowing the whale. He says that Jonah, before going into the gourd business, was a large sized man, and could have spewed a whale up on dry land in less than three days. Jonah was also a champion in revivals, for he converted the people of the large city of Ninevah in 40 days and 40 nights. Hence Montanus, in the third century, ordered the apostolic succession Episcopalian to observe Lent during the same length of time. Some of them, as Henry the VIII, objected and said: Let us observe, as heretofore, the 40 hours which the whale laid in the belly of Jonah; but the majority would none of it, and so this time is observed to the present day. Jonah was a distinguished character, according to the historian. When he was dumped into the sea it was very boisterous, but he served as an antidote. The whale did not set well on his stomach and he set off to land to relieve the plethoric state of his food receptacle. Jonah was in a bad fix for three days, but being relieved by an emetic he struck off by land for his destination, making better time than the C. P. R. R. emigrant train, and arriving there several hours earlier than the chaps in the schooner, who had no whale to carry for three days.

We love babies and also anybody else who loves babies. No man has music in his soul who doesn't love babies. Babies were made to be loved, particularly girl babies—when they grow up.—Lyon Co. Times.

We publish this for the benefit of the organ grinder who arrived on Monday.

A number of years ago, James Collins, having but recently married, left his home in Geneva, New York, and started West to look up a location for settlement. In New Mexico he was captured by the Indians. Years passed on, and no news whatever was heard from him, and he was mourned as dead. Mrs. Collins, in due time, married again, and a few days ago was startled by receiving a letter from her first husband, saying that he had just escaped from captivity, and asking for money to get home with. The sequel is anxiously looked forward to.

An organ was some time ago introduced in a parish church in the North of Scotland, and some of the members took offense and left. One of these soon after met another member and inquired "hoo the organ was gettin' on?" "O, fine," was the answer; "jist blawin' awa the chaff and an' keepin' the corn."

Pennsylvania can beat the world for fou fecund women. The Reading Eagle notices the fact that the wife of John Hoffer, a junk dealer of that city, has presented her husband with their forty-fifth child. Families of from 15 to 22 children are not rare occurrences among the old "Dutch" stock of that State.

No one has yet invented a place for a man to put his silk hat when he goes to church, and it continues to be dragged around by the ladies' dresses, tramped on by the usher, or sat down on by a fat woman.

Recently at a wedding, when the clergyman asked the young lady, "Wilt thou have this man to be thy wedded husband?" she, with a modesty which lent her beauty additional grace, replied: "If you please."

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

JOKE ON A BOOK AGENT.—A book agent visited the Court House to-day and inquired for Mr. Young. It seems the Deputy-Sheriff had subscribed for the Pacific Coast Directory, and the man of unlimited cheek had called to deliver the book and receive the $1.50. Young was out and Under-Sheriff Chamberlain was the only occupant of the office. Messrs. Comstock and Mann told the agent to go into the opposite office that Young was in there. In he went and delivered to Ike the Directory and claimed his coin. Ike took the book but said that he was not Mr. Young. Comstock and Mann at this juncture arrived, and addressing Ike, said: "Young that is too thin; pay for your book." The agent demanded his money. Ike denied that he was Young, and Pete and Mann swore that he was young and was trying to avoid paying a just debt. The book agent was in hot water, and believed that Ike was laughing to him. He had Ike to write down his name and then looked at it suspiciously. The poor fellow was allowed to go after awhile. But Comstock and Mann got in a good laugh on the cheeky man, and were even mean enough to laugh at Ike.

PLEASURE RESORT.—We are informed that Messrs. Dean and Martin purpose to refurnish and refit throughout, the old Glendale Hotel. They will provide fine picnic grounds a comfortable bath house, and the house will be kept especially for comfort, and pleasure seekers. Glendale used to enjoy an enviable reputation as a place of resort. Its groves of cottonwoods, and the noisy Truckee, the beautiful meadows, and the quiet seclusion of the place serving to attract many visitors from Virginia and elsewhere. Messrs. Dean and Martin will try to reestablish this old reputation, and give to the people a quiet rural retreat, where they may enjoy the comforts of the farm, and have every convenience for health and pleasure.

FLOURING MILL.—The new flouring mill will probably start up next Monday. A number of workmen are busy giving the old mill a thorough overhauling. Mr. Boles means business and will see when the machine starts that satisfaction will be given to the patrons of this home industry. If you have barley to grind into stock feed, or corn and wheat to convert into a convenient state for the housewife, hold the same until next Monday and make a little business visit to the Reno Flouring Mills, situated in the eastern part of town.

OPIMUM.—Our officers should remember that the opium law is new in force, and their action should be governed accordingly. It is a misdemeanor now to sell or give away this poisonous drug, except when prescribed by a practicing physician. The law is a good one, and should be strictly enforced. Let's have these dens broken up, and the number of hoodlums may possibly decrease.

INVITATION CARDS.—Parties desirous of attending the Scott & Parks' Saturday evening soirees can obtain invitation cards by applying to C. J. Brookins or Mr. Walker at Hagerman's store. None but those holding these cards will be admitted. This is a sensible move and cannot fail to make these Saturday evening parties popular and pleasant.

THAT POST.—Stewart's bill, to prevent women-beating, provides that the County Commissioners shall cause a whipping post to be erected in some public place and kept ready for use. Where is our post? We want to hear from the common scoundrels upon this point. Advertise for bids, gents, and let us have this warning to wife beaters in plain view.

E. Meyer makes a specialty of Bit Cigars. Those who have tried them smoke them again.

FOUND.—Watchman Ross last night found the other shirt which Harrison Washington Pope borrowed from Senator Boardman's clothes-line. We shudder when we think that H. W. might have stolen ours, for it was hanging up yesterday while we rushed around with coat buttoned tightly at the collar, trying to keep warm.

None but the best brands of Smoking and Chewing Tobacco kept at E. Meyer's New Cigar Store.

Exciting Race.

Four Miles and Repeat—Barlow and Dagny Contestants—Barlow wins Easily.

This afternoon as Constable Barlow was cruising about in the western part of town he came upon a select picnic party of four, who were seated near a ditch and enjoying themselves in an unlawful manner. The gathering consisted of two Pute maidens, Alexander Dagny and another gentleman whose name is not known to fame. The party were conversing in a most friendly manner, and the bottle containing Kentucky wine was handed to the maidens at short intervals. Barlow took in the situation at a glance, and by a vote of 8 to 7 resolved to arrest the male picnickers. He advanced to carry his idea into effect, when the redoubtable Dagny and his confere took to their heels. Barlow being not in condition for a long race, picked out the largest man and gave hot pursuit. Dagny took around Larcombe's ranch and showed much speed in his efforts to get away from the peeler, but Barlow kept up his gate and soon began to gain on the fugitive. Dagny then took down through Second street, and Barlow began to show signs of distress when Chinatown was reached, but here George Avery dropped in cold turkey, and assisted Barlow in pressing the pursuit. Dagny was finally overhauled near the mill and led up to the sacrifice. Judge R. looked at him, took another chew, and admitted him to bail in the sum of $36 cash.

Police Court.

Harrison W. Pope appeared before Justice R. this morning to answer to the charge of petit larceny. It being alleged that he had stolen two of Wm. M. Boardman's white shirts and a sack of his oat meal. Pope acknowledged the theft, and was informed by the Court that he might enjoy Rover's society for 60 days. "Well," said he, "I suppose that you will send me up for a longer period when I am brought up for Seller's carpenter tools. Do your best Judge, to make the two sentences hold through Summer, for I don't like hot weather." The Judge thought the nephew of General Pope, of Bull Run fame, a little reckless, and assayed to stir a repentant feeling in the young man's bosom. But Pope was not the man to be overcome by good talk from officers of the law. Said he: "Nary, Judge; it's no go. I've been in the army too long. Board and lodging free, with light work, suits my constitution better. I'm not detained at nights from going to bed early by having to speak a little piece to our Heavenly Father. Judge, I've been 16 years in the army, and am the black sheep of an honorable family. I was wounded during the civil war and again while fighting the Apaches in Arizona. I have seen hard times, but if you have a little tobacco about your person you will give me a healthy chew and delegate Barlow to escort me over to see Sheriff Lamb. A hard case passed out of the court in company with the officer. The Judge turned on his chair to muse on the queer phases of life which almost daily are presented before him, and Jones and Avery crossed the street to try Jim Chamber's tansy bitters.

POOR MAN.—"Been injured in the mines?" We inquired of a badly smashed up individual, with one arm in a sling and a mansard roof over his left eye, who stepped off the lightning last night. "Mines? no, it wasn't that; you see I went up to a raft of good looking fellows who were loafing in front of a big newspaper office in Virginia and struck one of 'em for a quarter. He murmured something about delinquent taxes, and told me to go somewhere. I started to go, but was fool enough to ask him for a chew of terbacker, when you'd ought to see him! He just didn't give me no show at all, furnished me a hospital ticket too quick. Those fellows around that office must have something sticking in their crop, that's sure, or they wouldn't have bounced a poor cove in that style. Say, mister, where can a fellow get a two-bit bed?"

For a genuine imported Havana Cigar go to E. Meyer in J. E. Jones & Co.'s old Bank.

NEW PAPER.—E. A. Littlefield will soon start a paper in Tuscarora mining district, near Elko. It will be known as the "Tuscarora Times." Success attend it.

Jottings.

The second story of the Commercial Exchange received a coat of paint to-day.

That sign on the roof of the Granger House shows off to a good advantage.

The Court House fence is being repaired to-day. Pope is the carpenter. He is working in the shade, and gets at the rate of $4 per diem. At this rate he will be a free man in 30 days.

The civil case of Murphy vs. McNeely, worried Justice R. a few hours to-day.

This evening Messrs. Scott & Parks give instructions in dancing to their classes of ladies and gentlemen, at the Opera House.

PERSONAL.—Senator Wm. Sharon, of San Francisco, Nevada, passed through his constituency last night. H. M. Yerrington, Superintendent of the V. & T. R. R. was also in town, and Charles Davis, C. C. Warner, and other transient visitors were to be seen during the day.

PRISON.—The Treadway Prison suit got a heavy backset in the U. S. Circuit Court this morning. Judge Sawyer held that the Slingerland judgment wouldn't hold, which, in effect, settles the whole question. There will be perhaps a new suit, but the State's perfect title is almost assured.—Carson Appeal.

Evangelist Burnham was annoyed by a crying baby while exhorting at Tylerville, Jefferson county N. Y., recently, and told the mother to remove the child. The people near by told the woman to remain, and the gentle Burnham donned his hat coat and over-shoes, and left the congregation to the stubbornness of their hard hearts.

Advertising is the bull's-eye of trade. The successful business team is the one which advertises most. Now is the time to make the shots tell.

AT THE OLD STAND.

Pat Keliber has sold the Branch Saddle Rock and returned to the Saddle Rock original, next to the International hotel. This change has been made solely because Pat found himself unable to tend to both places with sufficient care. He prides himself upon his close attention to business and the large number of patrons which he has gained thereby. He now asks a continuance of past favors at the Saddle Rock and promises to deserve them more than ever. Old patrons only need to know the location while new comers are referred to the Saddle Rock for trial. Any man who is not satisfied will go free of charge. Pat points with pride to the number of fat men now roaming our streets, and confesses that his famous Eastern oysters and made dinners have done the work. Call at the Saddle Rock and you may be assured of good treatment and the best which the market affords.

SUPERIOR IRON HARROW.—I have a harrow which I offer to the public, which I think excels anything in the harrow line I have ever seen. It is made entire of the best Norway wrought iron, except the points of the teeth, which are tipped with four inches of the best steel. My harrow will cover grain or seed, being made to run deep into the ground or pass lightly over it. Another superiority which I claim for it is, that it has no dead motion like wooden harrows; when passing over the ground it has a swinging motion, which very much increases its efficiency. On the upper side are two rows or runners on which the harrow may glide smoothly along when it is being removed from one field to another. Any size desired promptly made to order. 3-10-91 W. J. LEANING TREES.—Often in a fine orchard we find one or more trees leaning over so far as to destroy the beauty of the whole orchard. It is also much more difficult to cultivate around a leaning tree. This may easily be remedied, while the trees are young, by partially digging up and replanting the trees. The roots will usually be found smallest on the side from which the tree leans; and, therefore, these roots should be loosened from the earth, the tree set in a perpendicular position, and carefully fastened by stakes and guys and the earth replaced around the roots. It would be well to add some rich compost to promote their growth. If, as is very probable, the top of the tree has become one-sided, it should be pruned so as to restore the balance. In this way we have "righted up" pear trees six inches through the stem; but the best way is to look after the young trees, and not permit them to depart from the way of uprightness.

BY VIRTUE of an interlocutory decree and judgment rendered April 16th, 1875, by the District Court of the Second Judicial District of the State of Nevada, held in and for the county of Washoe, and now affirmed by the Supreme Court of said State, and by virtue of a certified copy of said decree to me delivered on the 13th day of March, A. D. 1877, and under and by virtue of a deed to me executed and delivered, of the premises hereinafter described, by the several parties to said decree; which said decree was rendered in a certain suit, pending in said court, entitled court, wherein R. S. Henningham is plaintiff and James A. Williams and Maria Williams, his wife, are defendants, and by which said decree the Sheriff of Washoe county is made a Receiver, and directed, as Sheriff and Receiver, to sell at public auction in view of the premises, for cash, such premises, by absolute sale without redemption and on payment of the purchase money to me to execute an absolute deed of said premises to such purchaser or purchasers thereof, and place such purchaser or purchasers in immediate possession of said premises, and remove all persons therefrom claiming said premises under all or any of the parties to said decree; and since the 30th day of December, A. D. 1873, when notice of the pendency of this action was filed in the office of the County Recorder of Washoe county in said State, I have levied upon said premises described in said decree, and now, therefore:
Notice is hereby given that on the SEVENTH DAY OF APRIL, A. D. 1877, I will sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder for cash, in accordance with said decree, all that certain place or parcel of land situate in the town of Reno, county of Washoe, and State of Nevada, and being the half of lot 4 (Four) and all of lot 5 (Five) in Block N, in said town of Reno, as surveyed and plotted on the map of said town as laid out for Charles Crocker in 1868, and on the payment of the purchase price thereof by the purchaser or purchasers thereof, I, as Sheriff of Washoe county and as Receiver appointed by said decree and as grantee of the premises by deed from all the parties to said suit, will make, acknowledge and deliver to such purchaser or purchasers, a good and sufficient deed of said premises, conveying all the interest and estate of the copartnership of Williams and Rhodes therein, as also of said defendants James A. Williams and Maria Williams, his wife, and all the equities of said copartnership and defendants and each of them and of any person or persons who may have obtained rights or claims to said premises since the filing of the pendency of the aforesaid action on the 30th day of December, 1873, and thereupon place such purchaser or purchasers in possession of the immediate possession of said premises, removing therefrom the defendants and any and all persons claiming by, through or under them or either of them, by title or agreement made subsequent to the 30th day of December, A. D. 1873.
Given under my hand this 14th day of March, A. D. 1877.
